Spring can arrive in February in Victoria on the west coast. In other parts of Canada, it gets warm in early April, and spring weather continues until June. In British Columbia, you can kayak, camp, or take a train trip through the Rocky Mountains.

Summer brings warm to hot weather from May to September. This is a great time to fish in one of Canada's many lakes; kayak among whales in Churchill, Manitoba; or have some Wild West fun at the Calgary Stampede.

Fall brings cool temperatures in September and October. It's a good time of year to see the fall leaves in eastern Canada, enjoy hiking, visit museums, or go to the Toronto International Film Festival.

Snow begins to fall in November, and temperatures drop. Days are short in winter, but you can ski, go to an ice festival, or see the northern lights. In parts of British Columbia, the snow doesn't stay long and you can golf all year!

A Read the article. Match the headings and the descriptions of the reality shows.

- a. Improvement shows b. Game-style shows c. Documentary-style shows

Reality Shows

– you either love them or you hate them! But did you realize there are different types of reality shows? Read on and find out more. . . .

In this type of reality show, contestants try to win a prize. The prize is often money or, in some cases, a job. Each week, one person leaves the show until there is only one – the winner. Sometimes the contestants vote on who stays or goes, sometimes the TV viewers at home vote, and other times the show's judges choose. One example is Top Chef. In this show, contestants cook dishes for the host and the three judges. The winner usually receives money, a trip, and an article in a food magazine.

This type of reality show looks like a soap opera, but it is about one or more real people and their daily lives. Some of these shows are about people on the job, such as police officers, firefighters, or hospital workers. Others are about regular people in unusual situations, and some even follow famous people. One example of this type was The Osbournes. This show was about the daily life of British singer Ozzy Osbourne and his family. In these types of shows, there is no prize money and no winner.

These shows are about a person or people who need a change. Other people help this person in one area, such as home, style, health, or relationships. An example of this is What Not to Wear. On this show, two hosts give fashion advice to someone who needs a new “look.” The hosts go to the person’s closet and throw away clothes that they don’t like. The person then receives money and a trip to New York City to shop for new clothes.

Hi! I live in Mexico and am planning to visit my uncle in Dallas, Texas, next year. I'd also like to visit Austin or San Antonio for a few days. I like the outdoors, local music, good food, friendly people, etc. Are both cities safe? Any other tips appreciated. Thanks! Miguel rocker Posted: May 17 7:23 p.m.

I'm a musician and live in Austin. I think the music here is the best in Texas. In fact, Austin's nickname is "the Live Music Capital of the World." I can send you the names of some cool music clubs. We have fantastic restaurants here, too.

Definitely visit San Antonio. The River Walk is one of the most popular things for visitors to do. There's a lot to do outdoors here, too. And everyone in Texas is very friendly. Check out my pics: myphotos

Baseball Team Raises Money in Harlem

How to Get Baseball Equipment

Dream Comes True for Harlem Teacher

Two years ago, high school students Michael Pinsky and David Connor read an article in a newspaper about a school in Harlem, a neighborhood in New York City. The school had a baseball team, but no money to buy balls, team uniforms, or other equipment.

Michael and David had an idea. They decided to help the team get money for the equipment they needed. So the two boys started a project to raise money for the baseball team. They called the project "Home Runs for Harlem." They placed boxes in stores to collect money for the team and sold bracelets with the words "Home Runs for Harlem" on them. Their plan was to give all the money they collected to the school to support the team.

Michael and David's project was a great success. They raised over $9,000. The team bought the equipment they needed: gloves, baseballs, and bats. The school also used some of the money to pay a baseball coach.

After the school in Harlem received the money, Michael and David spoke to the students at the school, and David explained why this was a dream come true. "It's not just about me," he says. "It's for other people. It's for the community."

"I just hope they have a fun time playing baseball, and if they can have the equipment, then that just helps out," says David. David and Michael now plan to raise money for other baseball teams in Harlem.

For their passionate and inspiring efforts to support school baseball programs, the two teenagers were New Yorkers of the Week on one of New York's news stations.
